

NCWORKS ON-THE-JOB TRAINING

On-the-Job Training (OJT) helps businesses offset training costs while filling skilled positions and creating new job opportunities.

Employers receive assistance with recruiting talent, while creating a viable pathway for unemployed workers.

Through the federally-funded OJT program, businesses are offered a 50% wage reimbursement incentive to help offset the cost of training new employees with limited skills.

Program Benefits

- Save time and money while minimizing new hire risk
- Provide valuable skills and experience to jobseekers, that are specific to your business or industry
- Previously unemployed or underemployed employees earn wages while gaining valuable occupational skills

For more information on the OJT program, please contact your local NCWorks Career Center
